THE MORMONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12, 1886.

To the Editor.

It is natural that the people of the eastern part of the United States should not have a full appreciation of the gravity of the Mormon question. The adherents of that faith number, in the territory of Utah, about 150,000, while the Gentiles number about 30,000. Under the term Gentile are included all who are not Mormons; and it is the only locality under the sun where Jews are Gentiles. To these heterodox individuals, therefore, who are in such a disadvantageous minority, all matters pertaining to social or governmental affairs, have a deep and immediate interest.

And the subject is not one which is easily comprehended or analyzed. To the cursory visitor at Salt Lake City, there is nothing in general to distinguish its population from that of other towns of similar size and location. It is a place everywhere noted for its broad avenues and general beauty; and at this season of the year, despite the gusts of snow and rain and the superfluous mud, the budding trees and singing birds foreshadow of the coming months. The influences of the peculiar religious and political tenets which are taught by, and are a part of, the Church of Zion, and the extent to which they affect the character of the people and their relations to the national government, could not be estimated with an approximate accuracy without devoting to the subject considerable time and study. Still, if one succeeds in penetrating the thin crust of decency and respectability, of order and loyalty which envelopes this religious system, it is found to be composed of the most disgusting rottenness. The Mormons consider no moral principle so sacred that it may not be invaded for the benefit of the church; and no crime as criminal if it enhances their cause. It is a school of duplicity, a fountain of dishonor, a center of treason and a continuing menace to free institutions wherever it has sufficient authority, it has no parallel in civilized countries. Within its purview it absolutely controls all religion, education and politics. It carries the union of church and state to the most obnoxious extremity. Its system of government is perhaps as nearly perfect, to accomplish its ends, as any which man has devised. It has its head who can have communication with the heavenly regions whenever he wishes; and the revelations thus obtained are filtered through a long line of apostles, disciples, patriarchs, prophets, and teachers down to the families composing the communion. Every separate community—though it may not contain more than two hundred souls—is made into a "ward," over which is placed a "teacher" who is the guide, counselor and friend of those under his charge. By them he is implicitly obeyed, and as each person follows the instructions received from those next higher in authority, the source of all authority is easily traced up to the head of the church.

AS AN AUTOCRATIC HIERARCHY

The complete and relentless grip which the officials have on the territory is manifest, when it is stated that in the present legislature of Utah and he is the first who has succeeded in getting a seat in that body for a quarter of a century. His success was entirely owing to his living in the region of the "Ontario Mine" the richest section of the territory, where the Gentiles were too numerous to be bulldozed and terrorized by their adversaries. Every county officer is a Mormon, and no statement of the public business is ever published nor will any examination by a Gentile be permitted. In Salt Lake City the business men are generally Gentiles, and it might be supposed that they would be more or less represented in the city government, but here the statesmanship of the saints is equal to the emergency. There are some wards in the city which have a Gentile majority, but it is effectually nullified by having all the members of the city government elected at large. Besides, woman suffrage is permitted and the female Mormons vote as frequently and zealously as does their husband. Every device which revelation, legerdemain or depravity can suggest, by which their grip on the community can be lightened, is discovered and adopted; and their success in the manifold ways which are dark compel at once the admiration and the apprehension of the observer.

Not the least of the interesting sights in the city is where one-tenth of all the productions of all kinds are deposited by the people for the benefit of the church. Something of a notion as to what this statement signifies may be had when it is considered that while, for instance, one-tenth of the grain is contributed, one-tenth of all the stock which is fattened on the remaining nine-tenths of the farm produce, gets into the rapacious maw of this spiritual despotism: so that by the time a farmer pays his annual tithes, a very considerable fraction of his year's labor has gone towards the support of the church. It is not surprising, therefore, that the people are getting ill clad; that their horses are poor in kind and flesh; and that their vehicles usually appear to be in the throes of dissolution. The amount of money which the Mormons derive from the tithing system cannot be learned, but it is known to be up in the millions.

The regular services at the Tabernacle are held at two o'clock Sunday afternoons. The edifice will seat 12,000 people, and it is usually full. There is a choir of two hundred voices, and an enormous organ which was built at Salt Lake City. The apostles, disciples and other spiritual functionaries, occupy tiers of seats surrounding the bishops and elders. A study of the faces as they emerge from the vast hall, is an entertainment in itself. Ninety-five per cent. of the Mormons are of foreign birth, and they come from about all the countries which have been so far discovered on the earth's surface. Even about as sodden and beastly a tribe of aborigines as exist, are among the most devoted of the saints; and some of them are usually in attendance at the Temple on Sundays. There is no uniformity in the looks, styles and customs of the auditors, except that of diversity. Everything can be depicted except intelligence. Occasionally a woman will be seen who might make some pretentious to symmetry and comeliness, but most of them are scrubs and scullions. It can be truthfully said that as a rule they are as juiceless as an eating-house sandwich and as melancholy as an editorial column of the Madison State Journal. If Mormonism is in any way or to any degree a beneficial institution, to its devotees, its beneficence does not betray itself in their appearance.

In no proper sense are the Mormon citizens of the United States entitled to the protection extended to citizens by the laws of the country. Holding as they do that their allegiance to the church is paramount to all other authority, and being aliens both by birth and by choice, they have no sympathy and patriotism in common with the civilized inhabitants of the other states and territories. They look upon all Gentiles as

and consider that they are obeying the decrees of providence in ridding the land of their presence. If by any mistaken notion of duty on the part of the United States government the troops now stationed at Salt Lake City should be removed in obedience to the efforts of the Mormons in that direction, there would seem to be no doubt that there would be an immediate, compulsory exodus of the entire Gentile population from the territory. At present there is a regiment of regulars and a battery of flying artillery stationed at Fort Duglas which commands the city, and one company of the infantry is quartered within the municipal limits,—all under the command of General McCook, of Indian fame. With such surroundings the Gentiles enjoy a great degree of security and pursue their vocations with little molestation. But the animus of the Mormons crop out with sufficient frequency. Not long since the son of the local editor of the Salt Lake Tribune—the organ of the Gentiles and a very able newspaper—was found murdered a few miles from the city. He was abducted from his home, slain in the most heartless manner, and the guilty parties were never found—all in a spirit of revenge. Not two weeks since the United States district attorney was assaulted by some of the sons of Geo. R. Cannon, doubtless with murderous intent, but he escaped with a few injuries. And this leads to a remark concerning the officers who with marvelous courage and pertinacity have been following the offenders against the National laws. Until the advent of Governor Murray, Judge Zane, District Attorney Dickson and Commissioner McKay, the blandishments of Mormon gold have had an irresistable influence in stopping all prosecutions. But those gentlemen, in addition to that royal quality of being are unsleeping in their efforts to punish violations of the laws and regardless of the personal consequences to themselves. The bitterness of the maledictions with which they are followed by the Mormons testifies to the vigor and earnestness with which they have discharged their duties. There is no divided sentiment among the Gentiles with regard to the integrity and faithfulness of these officials. There are a number of ex-confederates in Salt Lake and their support of administration of affairs in the territory for the past few years has been hearty and earnest. On the fourth of last July the Mormons hung all their stars and stripes at half-mast and one Confederate major who had won his title in a Virginia regiment, said that he had spent four years trying to haul that flag down, but now he proposed to spend whatever time was necessary to haul it up. The members of the Grand Army were in session in the city at the time to the number of three hundred or so and it is scarcely necessary to say that the flags did not remain at half mast for many hours.

It is something over a year ago that the crusade against the libidinous iniquity began in earnest. One of the very first grand juries to find indictments against the apostolic saints for unlawful cohabitation contained as a member that gentleman who is so well and pleasantly remembered by old Janesvillians, Mr. Otto Horne; but the seeker for his residence will find his name recorded in the directory as F. O. Horne. If any person has the fragrance of Janesville about the bosom of his garments, it is an unquestioned passport to the favor and hospitality of Mr. Horne and his agreeable family. From that time there has been no intermission in prosecutions for violations of the law and no delay in enforcing the penalties which have been prescribed. In consequence of this zeal a large number of the elect have taken

"THE UNDERGROUND,"

Among whom are President John Taylor and George R. Cannon. The latter forfeited his bail which was in the sum of $45,000, which money is doubtless paid from the coffers of the church, as are the fines which are imposed, and they are large and numerous. The present mayor of the city was a week ago having his trial on the usual charge. At the recent annual conference it was announced that Taylor, Cannon & Co. had left the territory in consequence of a fresh revelation from on high, and their return was promised in due time. The only hope of these virtuous saints at the present time is that the new territorial officers who are being appointed by President Cleveland will be susceptible to monetary influences. The question of politics does not enter into territorial affairs in any degree; all contests have but one basis—Mormons vs. Gentiles.

It was a stroke of great good fortune to meet in Salt Lake City, the Hon. Alexander Graham, who was there as a witness in a law suit, concerning a mine, involving a large sum. It made the eyes of his Janesville friend project a long distance into space, to hear his acquaintances address him as "Judge" and "Colonel." No one, of course, who knows the honorable gentleman, would doubt that he has sufficient learning to entitle him to the former appelation, or sufficient valor to make the latter rank appropriate; but to one who so well knew his reserve and unostentation, the situation seemed peculiar and decidedly western. The thorough familiarity of Mr. Graham with the people and the affairs of Utah made his ciceronage exceptionally desirable and profitable. It is gratifying to know that Mr. Graham now calls Janesville his home, and that he will soon probably become a resident of the city in fact as well as in name.

After seeing something of the extent and depth of the Mormon fraud, the writer attributes to the subject more importance than he ever did before; and this is his apology—if one be needed—for writing so long a letter concerning it.

WILLIAM B. STRONG.

The name of William B. Strong, says the Topeka Capital, and the fact of his reelection yesterday to the presidency of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company are texts enough on which to hang a bit of personal sermon.

William B. Strong is, perhaps, the foremost representative of one of the two distinct and different classes of railroad men in this country. He represents the class composed of men who do not surrender their citizenship when they take office under a board of railway directors. He is one of the not too many railway managers who have real human blood in their veins, and who appreciate as keenly the duties and obligations resting upon them for the good of the public as they do the rights and prerogatives which are theirs as against the public.

It is this characteristic of Mr. Strong which most concerns the public. It is this that makes him put the management and operation of his road into the hands of such men as Smith, Robinson, Peck, Goddard, White, Wilder, Leeds, Wheeler and others of their kind. It is this that prevents strikes, builds up towns, encourages development and renders aid and comfort generally to the cause of good government. It is this that makes for the Santa Fe, and keeps for it, a warm place in the hearts of the people.

Of Mr. Strong's personal qualities in detail it may not be wholly in good taste to speak. The people of the west know much of them already. His knowledge of all classes of his business, his magnificent energy, his broad plans and his unostentatious methods have enabled him to build for himself, in the Santa Fe system, a "monument more enduring than brass" and a fame which must remain bright while the growth and development of the west is a matter of thought with men of affairs and students of history.

The Topeka Capital: The action of the board of directors of the Santa Fe yesterday in the placing of the Hon. George R. Peck at the head of the legal department of the Santa Fe road is one which will meet the approval of all who are familiar with the company and its needs. The selection is a splendid endorsement of Mr. Peck's ability as an attorney and as a councellor in questions of the gravest and most far-reaching importance. The people of Kansas will rejoice in this just compliment to one of the most popular of their fellow citizens.

"I have been handling your preparation, Athlophoros—for some time, and it has given satisfaction to those that use it for neuralgia and rheumatism. I personally recommend it," is the testimonial of druggist J. B. Matthews, of Gregory, Mich.

THE ISSUE OF THE HOUR.

Beecher Considers Reform in the Civil Service—Some Unpartisan Comment.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher being asked as to the truth of a reported interview with him while in Indiana recently, says he thought probably the report was correct and remarked that at any rate the statements were his own. After making a few uncomplimenting comments on the appointment of President Cleveland on his own party, he was asked: "Do you conclude then that the object of civil service reform is the most pressing question of the day?"

"I do, most decidedly. The silver question but touches the pockets of our people. A reform in the revenue laws, no matter how imperatively demanded, is not yet the most momentus or pressing. To my mind, indeed, this one matter of filling the offices with competent men and leaving them there while they are efficient and honest is the overshadowing issue of the day. When we see the demoralization that money has wrought in our politics, the threatened clean sweep that a victorious party would inaugurate if it could, and the large interests that are involved, it seems to me that the time has come for a rational and business-like settlement of this question."

Mr. Beecher thought that the president's course was a correct as it could be under the circumstances, and that many of his advances was as earnest as himself in the cause of reform. Mr. B. would have no hesitation in voting for Bayard, Manning, "or even" Whitney for president. He thought Blaine a man lacking a nice sense of honor, and Hill one who would get votes by illegitimate means—a trimming politician.

Cleveland, he said, owed nothing to the Democratic party; he was selected as the most "available" man, and was elected by the votes of Independent Republicans, some of whom were applicants for offices for themselves or anybody else.

The greatest foe of American people is consumption; its victims number many thousands each year. Physicians and druggists have at last found a remedy which they feel justified in recommending. This is Dr. Bigelow's Positive cure, which cures consumption in stages that other remedies are of no benefit. It cures cough, colds and throat and lung diseases speedily and safely. price 50 cents and $1.

PISTOLING A PRELATE.

BISHOP OF MADRID SHOT DOWN ON THE CATHEDRAL STEPS.

The Assassin Barely Escapes the Fury of the Populace—Terrible Catastrophe in Galicia—Hundreds of Victims—Warlike News from Greece—British Politics.

MADRID, April 19.—At 10:30 Sunday morning, as the bishop of Madrid was ascending the broad steps of the cathedral on his way to celebrate mass, a priest who was standing on the top of the steps, near the entrance to the edifice, drew a revolver and fired two shots at him. At the first shot the bishop sank to the steps with a bullet in his abdomen and the second ball which immediately followed the first, wounded him in the side. The priest then descended the steps, firing as he advanced, and before he could be seized again wounded the bishop, this time in the thigh. The bishop was unconscious when raised in the arms of his attendants and was carried to his private chamber in the cathedral. There he was found to be in a dying condition and the last sacraments were administered to him. Sunday being palm Sunday there was an immense crowd both in and around the cathedral, and the presence of a few policemen who immediately rescued the assassin from the hands of the infuriated people prevented a riot, and saved the priest's life. The prisoner was at once placed in a carriage and hurried to jail. The carriage was followed by an immense crowd of excited people, and several attempts were made by them to get possession of the priest and lynch him, but the gendarmes succeeded in getting him safely to jail. The motive for the crime was revenge.

LATER.—The bishop was still alive at midnight Sunday, though slight hope of his recovery was entertained. The priest who shot the bishop attempted to commit suicide in prison, but was prevented by the guards. It has been ascertained that he was recently dismissed from his parish for some infraction of church rules, and had fruitlessly applied to the bishop for reinstatement. Becoming desperate he sought to revenge himself by killing the prelate.

A TORNADO OF FLAME.

Awful Calamity to a Town in Galicia—Hundred Dead and Missing.

VIENNA, April 19.—The town of Stry, in Galicia, has been destroyed by fire. Six hundred houses were burned and many people killed. The inhabitants are in a state of extreme destitution, and assistance is being forwarded to them. The explosion of a kerosene lamp caused the fire.

A high wind was blowing, and the fire started in several parts of the town about the same time.

One hundred persons were killed in one street by falling walls.

The town hall, the railway station, and the telegraph office was destroyed.

A large number of wounded were sent to Lemberg, a distance of forty-two miles, where the hospitals are crowded with the sufferers.

Hundreds of persons are missing.

Lack of water rendered aid by the military futile. Money and food are being collected in the surrounding towns for the relief of the sufferers.

GETTING TOO CLOSE FOR PEACE.

Excitement in Athens Over the Movements of Greeks and Turks.

ATHENS, April 19.—The minister of war has withdrawn his resignation, and will start for the frontier immediately. It is stated that the troops garrisoning this city have been ordered to proceed to the frontier at once. The city is very much excited. It is reported that both the Greek and Turkish troops on the frontier have advanced until not more than a mile separates them at some points.

LIBERALS COMING ROUND.

Only the Radicals to Conciliate on Gladstone's Plans.

LONDON, April 19.—The storm of opposition and angry criticism which greeted Mr. Gladstone's explanation of his plans for Ireland seems at last to be subsiding. Mr. Gladstone's willingness to accept every reasonable suggestion for modification of the less essential parts of the scheme, and his evident sincerity in desiring to have passed a measure embodying the united wisdom of parliament rather than to insist upon a Gladstone bill pure and simple, has had a wonderful effect in conciliating all factions, and in securing calm and fair consideration of the measure, and there is plainly a rallying of the Liberal forces around their old leader. The fate of the measure now depends wholly upon the result of the efforts which are being made to reconcile the Gladstonites and the Radicals. The Radicals continue to be absolutely opposed to at least one provision of the bill—the exclusion of Irish members from the imperial parliament. Mr. Gladstone seems disposed to yield to their views on this point so that there seems no irreconcilable barrier to the Radicals finally coming in full support of the scheme. The Radicals also insist positively upon further reductions in the amount which the land bill proposes to allow for expenditure in purchasing Irish estates, though in the opinion of those who have studied the question, the amount suggested by Mr. Gladstone—$250,000,000—is rather insufficient than excessive for the necessities of the case.

The press comments variously on the land purchase bill. The Standard says that while the bill is a mere shadow of Gladstone's original conception it is sufficiently startling, the News wants to know: "Will the tenants pay?" The Times says the bill looks as though the government counted dissolution. The Edinburgh Colsman says the measure is a "vast and dangerous transaction."

LONDON, April 19.—At a meeting of tenant farmers at Kildysart, Ireland, Sunday, the land purchase bill was denounced as simply a measure for the relief of the landlords. It was declared that if the farmers get their holdings on the basis of four years' rental their position would be very little improved, as they are without the necessary capital with which to obtain a start. A resolution was adopted asking the Parnellite members of parliament to oppose the bill.

VERY SHARP OF THE RUSSIANS.

An Alleged Plan to Induce England to Give the Bear a Free Pass to India.

LONDON, April 19.—A recent communication of the Russian foreign minister De Giers to Lord Rosebery, British foreign secretary, is considered in some quarters an invitation for England to put her head in the bear's mouth, so far as her Indian possessions are concerned. The invitation comes in the shape of a diplomatic note in which the Russian minister merely suggests that the British government extend its railway system by building a line from the Indian frontier to Herat and the borders of Turkestan. There it would connect with the great Trans-Caspian railway, which has been built with wonderful energy and speed by Russian military engineers from the shores of the Caspian sea nearly to the Afghan frontier. This would afford, says M. de Giers, a vast arterial channel of commerce of unequaled utility, since it would provide a highway to and from the Arabian sea for all the commerce of Afghanistan, Turkestan and Persia; would vastly increase the imports from England into these countries, and would give England an overland route to their Indian possessions, saving nearly one-half of the present journey and avoiding the discomforts of the Suez canal and the Red sea. Another nice thing about this would be that it would enable the Russians to throw an overwhelming body of troops into India before England could begin to meet the movement. Therefore, say the wiseacres, the natural barriers between British and Russian possessions will be allowed to remain, and Russia, if she ever gets to the Indian frontier, will have to sap and mine her way.

The general commanding the Greek troops on Soulios heights, which command the plain of Larissa, was summoned by the Turkish general Sunday to withdraw from that stronghold. The Greek general flatly refused to withdraw. The Turkish force, consisting of 7,000 men and several batteries, thereupon advanced to the foot of the heights.

THE CHOLERA AGAIN.

Sixteen Deaths in Eight Days—Outbreak at Trieste.

LONDON, April 19.—At last the cholera, which has been lurking furtively through the winter in various Latin countries, has broken out savagely in Brindisi and other points of Italy. There were sixteen deaths from cholera at Brindisi from April 8 to 16. Thus far the proportion of deaths, however, is very small—about one out of seven. The outbreak has sent a shiver through Europe, as it is impossible to foresee the limitations of the contagion to such a frequented point on a great maratime highway.

VIENNA, April 19.—Cases of cholera are reported from Trieste. The outbreak of the disease in Italy is said to be more serious than was at first stated. The authorities there, it is alleged, are hiding the truth regarding the ravages of the disease. The Austrian authorities have again established a cordon on the Italian frontier, and every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread of the epidemic.

No Riot To Be Permitted.

BERLIN, April 19.—The minister of the interior has issued a proclamation setting forth that the officials charged with executing the laws will closely watch the labor conflicts now waging in Berlin and see that everything is peacefully and legally settled. If the Socialists attempt to create a riot a state of siege will be immediately proclaimed.

THE SANTA FE.

Annual Meeting of the Santa Fe Railway Stockholders.

The Full Text of the Admirable address by President Strong.

In Which are High Compliments to Kansas Enterprise.

A Review of the Liberal Policy of the Road.

[From the Kansas City Daily Journal.]

The important event of to-day was the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, which was held at the general offices in this city.

The annual report of the condition of the road was read, and showed its affairs to be in excellent condition.

At the meeting President Strong delivered the following clear and interesting address:

The history of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company has been one of remarkable development and progress. It has seemed to partake of the Kansas spirit of enterprise, a spirit which is not daunted by any obstacle, nor discouraged by any difficulty.

It has received from the people of the state generous treatment and it has responded to that treatment by a faithful observance of its duties and obligations. The career of this company demonstrates that it is sound policy to consider the interests of the public as equal with, if not paramount to the interests of the stockholders, and that meeting the fair and reasonable acquirements of the former tends to the ultimate benefit of the latter. And here I desire to add, that in my judgment, that after several years' observance and experience of its workings, the commissioner system, when not exercised for mere political purposes, is a wise and beneficial one, both for the people and for the railroads.

When, as in Kansas, able and honorable men are selected who make railway matters a constant study, both the state and the railroad receive the benefit of their labors, and both learn, by being brought into proper relations, that there is no necessary antagonism between them.

Of the operation of the company during the past year, the printed report which is now before you furnishes the usual information. I will therefore only refer, and that briefly, to the completion of the California Southern road from Barstow, on the Mojave division of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, to San Diego, on the Pacific coast, as the consummation of the agreements which were entered into January 31st, 1880, to construct and operate under the A. & P. charter an independent railroad line from Albuquerque by the most practicable route to the Pacific coast. The Atchison company has thus kept faith from first to last with those who originally invested their money in the A. & P. subscriptions on the strength of its promises. I have the same faith of the ultimate success of this through line that I have heretofore expressed.

As to the California Southern, it was only opened for business its entire length about the first of December, but for that month on a mileage of 278 miles, which includes half mileage of the road between Colton and Los Angeles over which the California Southern has equal rights for business with the Southern Pacific, the gross earnings were $33,000 against $16,000, the largest amount ever previously earned in any one month on a mileage of 130 miles.

Of the plans and purposes of the company for the future you are advised, and yet it may not be improper to refer to some of them. On the 9th of January last a circular was issued to the stockholders (No. 57) for subscriptions to the Chicago, Kansas & Western railroad company for building about 450 miles of railway in Kansas to be auxiliary to the existing lines in this state. These new lines were projected to meet the demands of traffic in various portions of the state and were based upon, as stated in the circular, "the rapid growth of the state of Kansas during the last two years." The subscriptions were promptly made, the work is already in progress, and within the next twelve months much territory that has heretofore been without adequate railroad facilities will receive them; the present lines will be strengthened and improved, and I trust that both the public and the company will feel the beneficial effects of the directors action in this respect.

We are peculiarly and emphatically a Kansas institution. Our prosperity depends very largely upon the prosperity of the state, and all that contributes to that end will advance the interests of this company. It has been an axiom with the company from the first that it should increase its mileage in Kansas as fast as the development of the country would warrant. But I am sure that the people of this state would not be satisfied to have the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad a mere local line. It was projected on a different plan, and however astonishing its growth and progress may seem, it has only worked out the destiny designed for it by its founders. They were Kansas men, and if you will look at the character granted in 1859 while Kansas was yet a territory, you will see that they had large views of commerce and trade. It provided not only for a line "in the direction of Santa Fe," but for one "in the direction of the Gulf of Mexico," not only the west but the south; not only the Pacific ocean, but the Gulf of Mexico were the objective points to which the pioneer railway builders looked. One of them, C. K. Holladay, the first president of the company, and who has been a director for twenty-seven years consecutively, is still with us; and I am confident that no one felt more satisfied than he when it was decided that the Southern Kansas company, controlled by the Atchison company, would build into the Indian territory to meet the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railway, thereby forming a through line to the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston. The connection will, I expect, be made in about twelve months; and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe company will then be enabled to exchange business with another system extending through and over one thousand miles of a valuable and fertile country. I regard this as the beginning of still brighter days for the Achison company, and as an assurance to it of a long and prosperous career. The advantages of this connection to Kansas can hardly be estimated. It will open a new market for its products and a new source of supply. It will place this state on an equal footing with California in the possession of a direct line to the seaport, with the same advantages of a water competition on business to and from the Atlantic coast. It will guarantee to the state and the company independence of combinations of rival lines to close the doors of trade against us or to cripple or embarrass our business. It will carry the products of the state, and our other traffic, to the open sea and make our road a more important factor than ever in the rapid and continuous interchange of commodities, which, in these days, is the first demand. It is another step in the march of events which is destined to make Kansas one of the greatest states in the union. In this connection I cannot refrain from quoting the clear and expressive language of Chief Justice Horton, of this state, in his recent able opinion in the Fletcher case: "Railroads, as all know, are things of growth. They enlarge with the development of the country; and railroading is a business wherein progress is absolutely necessary. A railroad cannot stand still; it must either get or give up business; it must make new combinations, open new territory, and secure new traffic or lose its business and reduce its revenue."

I shall be expected to say something in relation to the rupture of the Trans-Continental association and the war of rates which has followed, the responsibility for both, having been most unjustly placed upon this company.

This association, while it existed, was composed of all the railroad companies whose roads wholly, or in part, make up the various through lines between the Missouri River and the Pacific coast. Each member, regardless of its proportion of mileage or business, had a voice in its discussions and an equal vote upon all questions.

Previous to December last year, our company had, as you know, no way of reaching the Pacific coast except over the line of the Southern Pacific road. That company had long held a monopoly of the California business, and looked upon us as trespassers upon their property, who had no business there. And besides the matter of feeling, their haul of all freight interchanged with us was much shorter than if interchanged with either of the connections outside of California, and their earnings upon it correspondingly less. It is expressing it mildly to say that under the circumstances the Southern Pacific did not encourage business over our line. It is not too much to say that we had to work under the greatest disadvantage for every dollar we earned against the most exasperating competition.

Our proportion in the pool for all California traffic as settled by the last arbitration was about twenty-five per cent, a proportion entirely unsatisfactory to us and which was exceeded by our actual business in spite of all disadvantages under which it was conducted. Having completed the California Southern road which gave us a direct and independent line to the Pacific coast and through the heart of Southern California, we gave in December last notice of our withdrawal from the association.

At an adjourned meeting held in New York in February, it was proposed to continue the association and an attempt was made to readjust the percentages. This failed and was followed by a meeting of the presidents and general managers at the same place and with the same results of failure to agree.

At these meetings it was urged to continue the old association with all its old members, its antagonistic interests and complications with a division based upon previous earnings. We could not assent to this, because the proposed basis was unjust to us inasmuch as, until December first, we had no line of our own into California; and our business was carried on under the disadvantages before alluded to, being done over a competing line. The division was therefore proposed to be based on a state of things which had ceased to exist; and the proposition ignored entirely our new and independent line and the increased facilities which it secured to us for obtaining and handling business. We proposed that the business of southern and northern California should be separated. There are but two roads in southern California, the Southern Pacific and the Atlantic & Pacific (the California Southern being considered as a part of the same interest as the latter) and the business of this district should be pooled between these two interests, their respective proportions to be divided with their eastern connections.

It is a fact that there are in southern California only the two roads named. If the Central Pacific is to be considered a separate interest from the Southern Pacific then it is in southern California only by its connection with the latter, that is, it is there only as are any of its eastern connections, immediate or remote.

The Southern Pacific road by virtue of its Central Pacific division is shorter than our line between the east and Northern California. Our line is much the shortest between the East and southern California. Hence the interest of the two companies, granting equal facilities to each, is quite different in the two sections, and to simplify the division and do justice to both parties the two sections should be considered separately and a separate pool made for each section.

It has been said that we refused to accept arbitration, but that statement is not correct. A fact is not a subject for arbitration, and it is a fact that there are only two interests in Southern California. How and what proportion the business should be divided between the roads is a matter of judgment and a proper subject for arbitration, and this we have frequently offered to submit to arbitration and abide by the result.

It may be well to say one word more. The disruption of the association was no fit reason nor justification for the cutting of rates and sacrifice of earnings which was inaugurated immediately and with such reckless haste. I am glad to say to you that for this action and the loss of revenue which has followed it we are not responsible. We did not begin it, nor did we follow it promptly, and when we did it was with reluctance and because we found that we should otherwise lose all our through business. We then decided it was our best course to demonstrate our ability to secure as much or more of the California traffic as we had claimed for our fair proportion.

No one regrets more than I do a warfare in rates and the reduction in revenue which is sure to follow. The contest has continued now almost two months—certainly long enough to prove that peace is preferable and yet desirable as it may be costly as a war always is, peace can be bought at too great a sacrifice.

We are looking for an early settlement of the trouble and upon a basis which involves concessions by all parties.

I bespeak for the board of directors the same hearty confidence which they have received in the past, and I venture to promise in their behalf that they will do the best to their ability to manage your affairs, mindful always of the great responsibilities with which they are clothed.

Unnecessary Violence.

For which outraged nature exacts heavy penalties, is done to the bowels by persons who with drastic, drenching purgatives make war on those organs in order to relieve their constriction. Constipation is not one of those desperate diseases that require desperate remedies. In fact, it is not a disease at all, but the incomplete discharge of a function, to the healthful renewal of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is far better adapted than drugs, whose action is excessive and consequently debilitating and injurious. Disorder of the liver, contamination of the blood with bilious headache and dyspeptic symptoms are the attendants of costiveness, and are likewise remedied by the Bitters. Its action is not limited to relieving the bowels naturally and without pain. Used with persistence and as directed, it perpetuates regularity in the habit of body, and in the operations of the digestive organs and liver. Fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles are prevented and cured by it.

THEY COME RATHER HIGH.

BUT CHICAGO COULDN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT THEM.

One Railway Strike Settled, Another One "On" and Others Biding Their Time—Conductors Denouncing Strikes—The First Blow at Gould—Powderly and Iron—General Situation.

CHICAGO, April 19.—The fact that St. Louis was having a strike of importance while Chicago railways were moving right along was a fact calculated to disturb the equanimity of her enterprising newsmen, and cause them to wonder why these things could be. This state of affairs was put an end to last week when some fifty switchmen at the Baltimore & Ohio yards struck because there were seven men employed in the yards who did not belong to the union. The situation was improved when on Saturday evening seventy-seven switchmen in the Lake Shore yards struck for the same cause as their B. & O. brethren, and became almost entirely satisfactory, when a small riot occurred upon the attempt of the Lake Shore people to take out a freight train without the consent of the strikers. The engineer and a brakeman of the train were somewhat beaten up for insisting on trying to take out the train, and then the railway people concluded not to move the train and quiet was restored. The Lake Shore officials did not charge the strikers with the violence, but thought that tramps and roughs were the rioters.

The correspondence between the Lake Shore officials and the strikers shows that the demand of the latter is for the removal to some other situation on the road, of eight men who do not belong to the union. The complaint is that they (the strikers) do not like to work alongside of "scabs." The company has taken the ground that it will not acquiesce in the demand of the strikers, as the men objected to are trustworthy and efficient, and are not disliked as men even by the union switchmen. The men say they will just stay away from the road and let the road get along without them, having passed a resolution at a meeting held Saturday night that they are no longer in the employ of the company.

The Baltimore & Ohio switchmen's strike came to an end Sunday. At a conference it was learned that two of the objectionable men had voluntarily resigned, and the other five have not been seen since the strike was inaugurated. Both sides considered all differences had been removed, and the strikers went to work.

The Lake Shore road attempted to make up trains Sunday morning, but met with poor success. Yardmaster Jones said that no trains had run out. "Business is light," he added, "and the loss will not be serious. The company may have taken some action relative to removing the objectionable men, but I don't know."

It was rumored at the yards that as soon as the present matter is adjusted the Rock Island men will go out unless "objectionable" men there are removed.

SOMETHING OF A NOVELTY.

Resolutions That Do Not Indorse the Missouri Pacific Strikers.

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 18.—The following resolutions were adopted Sunday by the Elmira division of the Order of Railway Conductors:

Resolved, That we extend greeting and commend the manly action, the steadfastness to principle, and the prestige thereby given to the Order of Railway Conductors in maintaining its principles by the brothers of the order employed on the Missouri Pacific system of railroads in refusing to join in and discountenancing the strike which has been in progress in that section to the detriment of both employe and employer.

Resolved, That, believing arbitration to be the only proper method to pursue in the matter of grievance, we condemn strikes, and assert further that they are invariably ill-advised, gotten up by agitators, socialists, incendiaries and demagogues, rather than by the representatives of honest labor.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be sent to every division along the line of railways contiguous to the Missouri Pacific system of railroads, as well as to Vice President Hoxie, whom the order holds in the highest esteem.

THE WAR ON GOULD

To Begin with a Boycott of the Western Union.

PITTSBURG, April 19.—Master Workman Evans, of District Assembly 3, Knights of Labor, whose headquarters are in this city, said Sunday afternoon that the Knights of Labor of this district will raise $10,000 and perhaps $20,000 for the southwestern strikers, and will also proceed at once to boycott the Western Union Telegraph company as the beginning of the Knights of Labor war against Gould. They will ask all business men not to patronize the Western Union, and those who persist in doing so will be boycotted.

Situation at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Saturday there was a decided improvement in the railway situation. There was more freight handled than at any time since the strike, and upon the troops being placed on guard at points heretofore unguarded more men went to work. The principal difficulty now is with the Belt road, which can not get men to make up trains.

The citizens committee has invited the resident directors of the Missouri Pacific to appoint a committee to further the scheme for arbitration, but the invitation has not yet been responded to. Roadmasters have been ordered to employ no Knights of Labor as foremen of gangs on the Missouri Pacific.

Irons, Coughlin and Jackson, indicted for tapping telegraph wires gave bond Saturday in $800 each to appear, and McGarry, Chase and Burdette, who were acquitted last week of interfering with the railway, have been indicted for that offense by the grand jury. A telegram from Springfield states that Governor Oglesby has "issued requisitions for the deputies who did the shooting in East St. Louis on the 9th inst.

Made Money by the Strike.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Mr. Gould said Saturday that the news received from the Missouri Pacific railroad showed that the road was doing 10 per cent. more business than last year with a reduction of 25 per cent. of the force of employes, thus showing, as he claims, that a good deal of unnecessary force has been got rid of.

The indictment of Martin Irons by the grand jury at St. Louis Friday seemed to be a surprise to Mr. Gould and his assistants. They said that they thought the matter had been settled some time ago.

A QUESTION ABOUT

Brown's Iron Bitters

ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians prescribe Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It follows, as a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When the blood has first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In every case there is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; surrounding symptoms, functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was past seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh! such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York

GIANT POWDER EXPLOSION.

Terrific and Fatal Effect—A Man's Head Blown off.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 19.—While the work of unloading a freight-car on the Lake Shore road was in progress at Clintonville, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, eight kegs of giant powder, or nitro-glycerine, exploded with terrific force. One car was blown into fragments, the windows of the depot were shattered, and the building otherwise damaged. Arthur Edwards, a station baggage agent, who was aiding in the unloading, had the top of his head blown off and expired in a short time. Jame Ringwood, night operator, who was standing near, was terribly injured, and is not expected to live. George Storm, a brakeman, also sustained such serious injuries that his life is despaired of. Conductor George Hollister sustained severe injuries about the hips. A fireman named Larsen, John Face, a spectator, and a brakeman named J. Gagnon were more or less disabled by flying fragments. The force of the explosion was terrific. Houses in the village were shaken, and glass in buildings at a considerable distance from the depot was broken by the concussion. The exact cause of the accident could not be ascertained Saturday afternoon. The persons most seriously injured are young men, and, it is understood here, they have families depending upon them. An eye witness of the accident who reached this city Saturday says the scene was a most harrowing one, as the injured were fearfully disfigured.

A SCRAMBLE IN CONGRESS.

Champions of Numerous Bills Getting Anxious About Their Fate.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—There will be a general scramble in both houses of congress this week. Those specially interested in bills that have passed neither house begin to realize that delays are hazardous, and that measures upon which there is likely to be considerable debate and to which amendments will be suggested, will have chance for final passage if they are not considered very soon. There is on the calendar of the senate about 250 private pension bills which are in charge of Blair and he intends that they shall be considered in the morning hour each day until disposed of. Blair is also determined to secure consideration of the bill for the relief of soldiers of the late war, honorably discharged after six months service, who are disabled and dependent upon their own labor for support, and of dependent parents of soldiers who died in the service or from disabilities therein. Blair will insist upon consideration of his bankruptcy bill, and will pit it against both the inter-state commerce and pension bills.

I think Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt so well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week, but since using the Balm have only had one and that was very light compared with other former ones.—J. A. Alcorn, Ag't U. P. R. R. Co., Eaton, Colo.

I find Ely's Cream Balm good for Catarrh of long standing.—M. N. Lasley, 1934 West Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky.

DON'T SAY A WORD.

VERY LATEST AND MOST EXCLUSIVE AND RELIABLE GOSSIP

Relating to the President's Intended Voyage Upon the Sea of Matrimony—The Victim Does not Deny the Soft Impeachment When Rallied Thereon.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—There appears to be a growing belief in Washington that the report of the president's engagement and approaching marriage in June to Miss Frances C. Folsom, of Buffalo, will be substantiated. It is impossible to have the report either authenticated or denied at the executive mansion, though the wiseacres having put their heads together affirm that President Cleveland's conduct in the matter differs in many essential points from the course pursued by him on former occasions when rumor has allied his name with that of others. It is stated that a gentleman who visited the White House and dined with Mr. Cleveland, a day or two ago, referred incidentally to the report, and that the president made no denial, merely asking in response if the visitor didn't think Miss Flosom would make a good mistress for the White House. The reports from Buffalo and other parts of New York State seem to confirm the rumors of the president's matrimonial intentions. Miss Folsom is an extremely handsome girl, about 21 years of age. She has dark hair and eyes, matchless complexion, coupled with a perfect physique and lady-like manners. She is highly educated and is a graduate of the West college Aurora, N. Y.

An intimate friend of the president is Captain Sprague, of New York, an old hotel man. He formerly conducted the Genesee house in Buffalo. Captain Sprague lunched with the president one day last week, and is now authority for the following: "I chaffed the president about marrying 'Frankie,' as Miss Folsom is generally called by those who know her and her family as I do. Mr. Cleveland made no denial; neither did he attempt to create the impression that the reports were untrue. Upon mentioning the subject he smiled and conversed pleasantly about it. If the reports were not true I am certain he would have told me so. Mr. Cleveland and myself have been friends for a number of years. He boarded with me when I was in the hotel business in Buffalo. I have a son named for him, and feel the president would not conceal anything of the kind from his personal friends. I have known Miss Folsom since she was a little schoolgirl. She is a lovely character, and will make the most charming mistress the White House has ever known. I am convinced the marriage will take place at an early date."

If those reports are true, and the president really is to marry Miss Folsom, it is not at all unlikely that he will be married during his midsummer vacation, and spend his honeymoon in the quiet of northern New York. The one who will lose by the president's marriage will be Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland. She is now the ranking lady in Washington society. With the president married she will lose her precedence over the wives of prominent officials. It is hardly probable that Miss Cleveland will remain at the White House after her brother's marriage. It is said by her friends that she will not be at all reluctant to give up her position here and return to the more congenial occupation of literary study and writing.

TROY, N. Y., April 19.—The contents of the letter written by Miss Folsom to a friend in Buffalo, announcing her engagement in marriage to President Cleveland, have been made public. She draws a picture of two boys growing up together, who were firm friends through adversity and success, until her father, one of them, met a sudden and violent death. The survivor, Grover Cleveland, became the guardian of his dead friend's daughter, and through years of sorrow the widow and daughter learned how strong and generous was his nature. The daughter grew to womanhood, and has for her foster-father something more than a ward's love for her guardian, and she has consented to become his wife.

Rev. Charles Townsend, whose engagement to marry Miss Folsom some years ago was broken, is the paster of a thriving and fashionable church in Lansingburgh, a suburb of this city, and he was formerly a reporter on a Bugalo newspaper, and is about 35 years old. He is a gentleman of fine address and presence, and is married to an estimable lady.

Scattered the Hot Metal.

PITTSBURG, April 19.—Shortly before noon, Saturday, while experiments were being made at the iron-works of Singer, Nimick & Co. in compressing steel, the mold, containing over 1,000 pounds of molten steel, suddenly gave way, scattering the metal in every direction. Some fifty or sixty persons were witnessing the experiment, and all were more or less burned. Five are supposed to be dangerously injured. The most seriously injured are as follows: James Mackey, smelter, dangerously burned about the head and upper part of the body. Alexander Foster, master mechanic, burned badly about the head, neck and arms; Peter Hess, worker, burned about neck and face severely, Frank Nimick, member of firm and manager, burned about legs, hands and neck. William H. Singer, member of firm, slightly scalded. Pat Mullen, arms and face burned; Michael Osborn, burned about neck and face. In addition to these there were a dozen others more or less injured. The cause of the accident is supposed to have been dampness of the mould.

Matters Attended to in the House.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—The senate was not in session Saturday. In the house the bill authorizing the establishment of export tobacco warehouses and for drawback on imported articles used in the manufacture of exported tobacco was passed. In the morning hour the bill appropriating $150,000 for the benefit of sufferers by floods in Alabama was debated, but went over, and the house went into committee on public buildings. When the committee rose, among the bills were one for fire-proofing the court house at Keokuk, Iowa, and a bill providing that the estimates for public buildings shall include cost of approaches, and that the United States shall not be held responsible for the cost of paving or repaving streets adjacent to public buildings, except in the District of Columbia. The house then adjourned.

The Celebrated Seventh.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—The New York Seventh Regiment will arrive here Monday p. m., at 8:45, and elaborate preparations have been made for their reception. The programme includes a parade as soon as the regiment is off the train, reception speech by Commissioner Webb and pyrotechnic display. Tuesday, "grand round" of the public buildings, parade and review by the president, visit to Mt. Vernon. Parade and review by the president Wednesday, escort to the train and departure for home. The Seventh Regiment band will serenade the president Tuesday evening.

Perhaps Sam Had "Blown Him Up."

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 19.—Allaco, Texas special says: A white man named Tobe Jackson, arrested near Reagan, Falls County, was brought here Saturday. Jackson is wanted in Barton County Ga., to answer to the charge of blowing up the residences of the judge of that county and the house of the Evangelist, Sam Jones, with dynamite.

The President's Brother Says So.

UTICA, N. Y., April 17.—Rev. William Cleveland, brother of the president, was in the city Thursday, and said: "Grover is to marry Miss Folsom this summer."

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y Financier."

Insanity is on the increase. Statistics show this. Many cases are brought on by overwork, anxiety, excitement, metal trouble and nervous prostration; it is also inherited. Invariably sleepless and constipation manifest themselves before one becomes insane. Constipation induces dyspepsia, jaundice, bad breath, piles, low spirits, headache, etc. Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic relieves constipation, thereby curing these diseases. Price, 50 cents. By druggists.

Prices are such that they command the attention at the great closing out sale at McKey's.

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St. Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Cuticura Remedies are sold everywhere. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents; RESOLVENT, $1.00; SOAP, 25 cents. Prepared by the Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston, Mass.

Catharral Dangers.

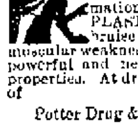

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most lonthsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

McGinnity officiated taking as a subject in his remarks, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass from you." At the close of the services the remains were taken to St. Patrick's cemetery. Thomas Burns, Barney Burns, Isaac Connors, Joseph Baker, Henry Murphy, and Hugh Dugan acting as pall bearers.

—Joseph Hutter started out on a ducking expedition yesterday morning and met with a success that exceeded his fondest hopes. When he reached the Court street bridge his boat became restless and uneasy, and without having time for any introductory remarks the follower of Nimrod was emptied into Rock river. He found a way to get out on shore without much trouble but his gun was not so fortunate; and a fine breech loader now lies under the water awaiting an owner.

GOUGH MEMORIAL SERVICE

An Interesting Programme In which Five Churches Participate.

Temperance and Prohibition.

The Congregational church contained a large audience last evening, assembled for the purpose of observing a Gough memorial service. Rev. A. J. Van Wagner presided and read the opening scripture which was followed with prayer by Rev. Thomas Walker, of the First M. E. church.

Mr. Van Wagner announced the object of the meeting, making a brief but earnest plea for temperance and giving some personal reminiscences of Mr. Gough, who signed the pledge in Worcester, Mass., at the close of a lecture delivered by the speaker's uncle some thirty years ago.

Mr. B. F. Danwiddie was introduced to the audience and in a ten minute speech gave a brief biographical sketch of the great temperance worker. His struggle with poverty and life of dissipation was vividly portrayed by the speaker as was also his reformation and the influences which produced it. A high tribute was paid to his temperance work and its grand results.

The Rev. Thomas Walker who was announced to speak on the temperance views of Gough, began by saying that John B. Gough was a christian and whatever he did for temperance was done as a christian. It was all in a spirit of love. The speaker read extracts from Goughs book "Platform Echoes" in which liquor selling was denounced as a soul destroying, God defying, traffic; and moral suasion while all right for the drunkard was spoken of as of no use whatever against the saloons themselves. Gough thought that the hand of the law should be firm in dealing with this matter and the speaker said that his views on the subject were the same as Gough's.

The Rev. John Schneider, of Edgerton spoke of Colonel Ellsworth and his anti-prohibition lecture. He said that he had listened with pleasure to that lecture because Mr. Ellsworth had really said nothing against prohibition. In speaking of John B. Gough, Mr. Ellsworth had said that he thoroughly approved of the plan and platform upon which that gentleman worked. Mr. Schneider thought that the anti-prohibition lecturer could never have read Gough's statements advocating prohibition or he would not have given him such strong support.

Gough might not have been a third party prohibitionist but that he was a prohibitionist through and through, nobody will deny. Mr. Ellsworth had said that the saloons were respectable, and yet more lawlessness and crime exist in saloons than in any other place. Mr. Ellsworth had also claimed that prohibition does not prohibit and mentioned cases where liquor had been shipped into these prohibition states in coffins. The speaker thought that this was singularly appropriate and economical. To carry liquor upto a city in a coffin and, after a time, to carry a drunkard out in the same coffin presented a wonderful example of the fitness of things.

The Rev. W. F. Brown gave an illustration of Gough's character showing that all though his life he had borne a secret sorrow. Notwithstanding his eloquence he would have given all, if he could have gone back and commenced over again. That sentiment came out strong in his last utterances "Young man keep your record clean."

The Hon. James Sutherland and Col. N. Smith, two gentlemen who were to have spoken were both unavoidably absent, and their places on the programme were not filled. Prof. O. H. Keyes, who was in the congregation, was called upon for a few remarks. He believed as those before him had, that moral suasion was a good thing, but thought that the matter should not be left entirely to education. Mothers should work in the homes and fathers should vote to help along the cause. Still he hoped that in ten years, lessons in temperance would be given in every school in the land, and that people would learn to be agressive temperance workers instead of being only on the defensive.

The lessons of Gough's life were spoken of by the Rev. M. G. Hodge. He began by saying that it was a misfortune to lose any good man but it was a much greater misfortune to lose such a man as John B. Gough. His life had taught the possibility of securing the fallen and the value of consecrated talent. Take away what Gough has done for temperance and you turn the hands a long way back on the dial. It might truthfully be said of him "He hath done what he could."

Will Not Defend Irons.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 19.—In reply to the question as to what action, if any, the general executive board of the Knights of Labor intended to take in the case of Martin Irons, who has been indicted at St. Louis, Mr Powderly said Saturday night that the order was not founded for the purpose of defending cases of that nature, and so far as he was concerned it would not assume the defense of Mr. Irons.

Sent Up for Various Terms.

DALLAS, Texas, April 19.—In the United States Circuit Court, Saturday, Judge Pardee in sentencing the Knights of Labor who had committed excesses declared that the present strike is simply for the recognition of the Knights of Labor, and not for the redress of grievances. He strongly denounced the Knights of Labor, and said that the next sentences would be more severe than those he had just pronounced. Five strikers were sentenced to various terms in jail, for intimidation preventing the proper use of switches, etc.

Demand for More Wages.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 19.—There are 5,000 Knights of Labor here, mostly cotton operatives. Sunday the executive board presented to the presidents of seven cotton mills demands for increased wages, shorter hours and certain privileges. A conference will be held with the superintendents on the subject.

All the Lines Involved.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The executive committee of the Car-Drivers' association have decided to tie up all the surface lines in the city, excepting on Eighth and Ninth avenues.

HAD TO USE HIS REVOLVER.

A Boston Policeman's Lucky Adventure in a Nice Neighborhood.

BOSTON April 19.—Between 4 and 5 p. m. a Sunday officer Jeremiah B Sullivan of station six was passing an alley near the corner of B and Second streets, Michael McGovern came out with an axe on his shoulder and began to abuse the officer. The officer remonstrated with him. The man began to make threatening gestures, and the officer attempted to arrest him. John Sullivan, a citizen, came up to assist the officer, and took the axe away from McGovern. A crowd now gathered, and two men, one giving the name of Thomas Lanergan, who is known to be one Kendrick, pitched upon the officer and knocked him down. The three men then beat and kicked the officer. The latter called loudly for assistance, but the crowd either jeered at him or made excuses. Finally he drew a revolver and shot McGovern in the abdomen. This did not quiet the latter, and the officer shot him again in the other side of the abdomen. McGovern now seized the officer's revolver and shot the latter through the left wrist. At this point other officers arrived, and Lanagan was arrested. The officer's revolver was found in his possession. The third assailant escaped. McGovern was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. Officer Sullivan, besides his wrist wound, is badly hurt. His face is kicked almost to a jelly, and he is all cut up. His wounds may prove fatal. A crowd of many thousand people gathered at the scene before the row ended.

MUST HAVE BEEN THE MORSE.

The Ship That Sank the Oregon—Those Who Will Never Return.

NEW YORK, April 19.—It is now pretty certain that the schooner Charles H. Morse sank the steamship Oregon. The Morse was a coaster of 535 tons, built in Bath in 1882 by her owners, Morse & Co., of this city. She was loaded in Baltimore of Cumberland coal, which was to be delivered in Boston. On Feb. 16 she sailed from Baltimore, and in due time reached Hampton roads, where contrary winds detained her until March 11 in company with seventy other schooners. At the time of the collision an officer of the Oregon says he saw the sails of a schooner, the crash occurred and in a moment the Oregon had swept ahead nearly a mile, entirely out of sight of the schooner even if she had been afloat. All of the vessels that kept company with the Morse in Hampton roads have long reached port safely, and she only is missing.

On board the Morse were nine men, all of whom were Americans. Of these the names of five are known, as follows: A. E. Manson, Jr., A. F. Wilkes, Ed McMahon, Mr. Holland, Mr. Blaisdell. There were, in addition, four men before the mast, all of whom lived in Maine.

Ready for Business.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—A meeting of the house special committee of inquiry into the causes of the strike on the Missouri Pacific was held Saturday and a line of procedure mapped out. Gould, Hopkins and Powderly will be first examined in this city, together with the other participants in the New York conferences. Then the committee will go to St. Louis, and after concluding there, break up into two committees, one of which will go to Fort Worth, Tex., and the other to Atchison, Kan. The business is to be completed at the earliest moment consistent with thoroughness.

THE MINNESOTA CYCLONE.

Four More Funerals—Money and Clothing Wanted.

SAUK RAPIDS, Minn., April 19.—Workmen are cleaning the debris and owners are preparing to rebuild stores and residences. Four more victims were buried Saturday afternoon. The wounded are cared for in a temporary hospital, formerly the county building, under care of Dr. Dunn, of Minneapolis, who says the medical emergency is fully met. What is now wanted is money and clothing. Eighty are at present taken care of. Caroline Hart had an arm amputated at the shoulder and Mrs. Gankop, who received internal injuries, is not expected to live. Miss Lulu Carpenter, who died Friday, was injured by a splinter that ran through her breast.

Keep This Date in Your Mind.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., April 19.—Professor Foster says in The Times that during the great storm period, from April 25 to 29, a hurricane will organize on or near the gulf and sweep up the southeast Atlantic coast, and that about the same time a cold wave will appear in the northwest and run down into the southern states, followed by heavy frosts as far south as Tennessee and southern Kansas.

Who Says Woman Is Weak.

LOUISVILLE, April 19.—The reappointment of Mrs. Virginia C. Thompson as postmistress of this city has occasioned general rejoicing among the Democratic masses. Although there were forty-four male candidates for the office, she had better Democratic indorsement than all of them put together.

Wanted Cash for Good Intentions.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 19.—One of the most astonishing cases of pension claim now before congress is that of W. P. Payne, of Tennessee, who received an injury at a time when he was only intending to enter the service, and he has had a bill in congress to grant him a pension. He won't get it.

His Heart Broken in Two.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 19.—Pasquale Oliver, an Italian, was run over by a loaded wagon Sunday and instantly killed. His heart was broken in two.

Down on Interference.

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—The legislative committee of the Ohio State Trades and Labor Assembly met here Saturday, and adopted resolutions asking the legislature to revoke the charter of incorporated companies who refuse to employ men who are members of labor organizations solely on that ground. The resolution is aimed at the Champion reaper works, at Springfield, Ohio.

A Detroit Man Cremated.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 19.—The body of Dr. Rudolph Eggeman, of Detroit, was cremated Monday night at the Buffalo crematory. Dr. Eggeman was a prominent physician of Detroit. He died there Friday, aged 76.

Mr. Filley Resigns.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—A meeting of the Republican state central committee was held here Saturday, at which the resignation of M. Filley was presented and accepted. The filling of the vacancy was left to the resident members of the committee.

OCCULTISM IN CHICAGO.

THREE SOCIETIES DEVOTED TO THE STUDY OF THE GREAT PROBLEM.

They Date Their Origin from Mythical Times—A Sacred Bond of Brotherhood —The Nine Degrees—The Theosophical Society—The Molecules of "Akasa."

The wheels of life move on unendingly, but the forces that move them must be sought for in the realm of the viewless. The unseen rules the unseen; but while this fact is palpable the inexplicable causes elude search. It is the problem of the ages. What and why is life? Where is truth? How can it be applied to solve the complex problems of human existence? Nature—our mother Isis—can she give the solution? Has she the key? Many systems of philosophy have spoken in reply, but none have answered—so say the occults—save occultism.

There are three societies in Chicago devoted to the study of the occult. But for all purposes of idle inquiry two of these brotherhoods are a very sphinx of silence, posing in a mystery as deep as night, an isolation as impenetrable as their ancient prototype preserving in the darkness of old Egypt, with the rites of initiation shrouding deeply around. Even not even their names are known to the outside world. Each of these two societies has a probationary term of seven years for the neophyte. The first degree can not be taken until this time has elapsed, unless the right of admission has been conferred through a unusual development of occult power.

THE NINE DEGREES OF OCCULTISM.

They date their origin from mythical times. There are ten degrees in each; however, only nine of these can be taken in this country. The aspirant for the tenth must seek it in the land of the Nile. The membership is composed of about an equal number of men and women, and there are lodges, as the societies are called, in all the principal cities of this country and across seas, including the remote east. The number of members is limited in each country, but it is not likely that the quota will be filled, for there are very few who have either the physical, moral or spiritual courage to undergo the ordeal through which admission is obtained. They are ascetic in habit, and their special aim is to cultivate unselfishness of action. Their bond of brotherhood is so sacred and binding that life itself is freely given by brother for brother. They use both the Jewish and Oriental Kabalas, and believe the soul possesses the power to disengage itself from the body, making "astral" visits whensoever it wills. These "viridical phantasms," or, as the German phrase it, the "dopple-ganger," are plainly recognizable as facsimile representations of the individual, and the occultist claims that many apparitions can be accounted for in this way.

The rooms occupied by these societies are arranged according to the harmonic laws which are supposed to govern the development of occult powers, and are never entered save by initiates. At their weekly meetings each member occupies the same seat. The keys of the lodge-room are held in sacred keeping by the chief magus. There are only two persons in this country—one in Chicago and one in New York—who have taken the first nine degrees of these societies.

THE LATCH-STRING OF THEOSOPHY.

The third body of the occult group—the Theosophical society—has its latch string always out, inviting the wayfarer athirst for such science to enter and drink at the mountain of truth, whose disciples they believe themselves to be. Condensed within a single phrase, theosophy is the broadest altruism—a veritable brotherhood of humanity, whose only path to "Nirvana" lies through utter abnegation of self. It seeks to develop to demonstrate the god in man. "Nirvana," theosophically understood, is the attainment of the highest individuality through a complete divestment of everything which clogs the pure spirit entity or the "Brahman." Consequently it is absolute harmony with the laws of universal being. This is called "deliverance," and to attain it, if one would join the company of the gods, purity of thought, purity of word, and purity of deed are the essentials.

The theosophical stand point is exactly the reverse of that occupied by modern Spiritualism. Spiritualism believes in passivity and submitting to "control." Theosophy believes in activity—the highest spiritual activity—and in not permitting outside control from any source whatever. It teaches the cultivation of the divine powers resident within the ego until it shall become "a god." The occultist believes in the broadest sense that knowledge is power. In other words, to believe without knowledge is weakness; to believe because one knows is power." His motto is: "There is no impossibility to him who wills." To this end, therefore, he studies the hidden mysteries of nature and the psychic powers latent in man; and in order to attain mastery over the forces of so called inanimate nature he must first bring his own carnal nature under the subjection of the will.

In the same manner that the telegraph operator makes the elect is current, the servant of his intelligence, so the occultist claims that will power can be be used on the molecules of "akasa." Akasa is that substance of matter which contains all the elements of the universe in a resolved state. The adept will can set in motion these molecules, condense them, or reform them by the operation of his inherent powers.—Antoinette V. B. Wakeman in Chicago Times

A Telegraph Messenger's Story.

A telegraph messenger, a small boy, delivered a message to a private residence the other Sunday night. When he reached the house, the clock from the city hall tower chimed out the hour of midnight. He rang the door-bell several times. No one appeared to be about. He pounded on the door, with no better result. Placing his mouth to the keyhole he yelled with all his might and main the single word "Fire!" Several people were at the door in an instant. He delivered the message.—Pioneer Press "Listener."
